GENCA Practical Skills Assessment: Online Theory Component

Prior to taking the GENCA Practical Skills Assessment, you need to complete the online theory component which involves completion of an online course followed by a Final Review Quiz, both done via the GENCA online learning platform.

The Endoscope Reprocessing course consists of six modules for you to work through. Each module has review questions at the end to assist with your learning. Once you have finished all six modules, consolidate your knowledge by working through the Final Review Quiz.

To obtain a current certificate for each of the Modules, and the Final Review Quiz, you will need to complete all the “2020” labels content. This will be the case for people required by their workplace to complete a review of the content every 12 months.

Please follow the steps below to successfully complete the online component.
